DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT

Coroner's Jury Probes Case of Stanley Kelly, Killed Tuesday.

DRIVER ACQUITTED

Testimony of Six Witnesses Heard. Roy Nevitt, Driver of Truck, Says Kelly Collided With Truck.

After hearing the testimony of six witnesses a coroner's jury summoned by Dr. T. M. Jones, which met last night at Demaine's mortuary chapel to investigate the circumstances attending the death of Stanley Kelly, who while riding a motorcycle last Tuesday afternoon, collided with an oil tank wagon of the Texas Oil Company in front of Ballenger's store on Duke street, gave a verdict of accidental death and exonerated the driver from all blame.

The testimony of Nevitt was to the effect that at the time he was driving eastward on Duke street and Kelly was driving westward and just before the accident he put out his hand indicting he proposed to turn and a moment afterward he slipped on his brake and just as he did so Kelly collided with the rear wheel of his truck. Kelly's leg he said got twisted in the handlebars of the motorcycle after the accident At the time witness said it was raining and he thought that Kelly probably lost control of the machine.

Richard Tennelly, local agent for the company, who was on the truck with Nevitt at the time, testified that he calling Nevitt's attention to he way the motorcycle was going and just as he did so, Kelly struck the truck he said. The boy was unconscious when picked up and placed in an automobile and sent to the hospital he said.

E. D. Smith, who conducts a blacksmith shop near the scene, testified that Kelly was going at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour when he passed his shop and almost instantly he was attracted by the crash. The truck he declared was on the right side.

Ebner R. Duncan, who was in a machine with Julian F. Poss nearby, told of taking Kelly to the hospital. Kelly he testified struck the back wheel of the truck.

According to Julian F. Poss the truck was going at the rate of about twelve miles an hour and the motorcycle about eighteen or twenty miles. Aboy named Henry Cornell, also testified to seeing the accident. He, however, threw no additional light on the case.

The jury was composed of C. D. Woolf, foreman; Carter H. Smith, Marvin Shiflett, A. S. Elbourn, Thomas Dunbarr, C. W. Dettor.

Putting Foot On Rail In Ice Cream Parlor Illegal In Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—Consumers of nonintoxicating drinks in Wisconsin must stand far enough away from the bar to eb unable to place foot on the rail or to set glass on the counter to keep from violating the new State prohibition law, according to an opinion by J. E. Messerchmidt, assistant attorney general.

Hula Hula Dress, Roll Tops Barred By Southern R. R.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—No use being a girl in certain offices of the Southern Railway.

Cant wear roll tops, georgette waists, hula hula sweaters or any of those little things during office hours. Can't wear rouge, or show the teeniest evidence of the lipstick Against the rules. Ever hear of such a thing?

Now these rules were issued last summer and, despite the fact that they were re-issued again this summer, girls will be girls, and occasionally more than one girl would show up in full bloom and full summer toggery

So it became necessary to do a very rash thing on the part of the authorities. And now as the girls stream into office each morning—in some divisions—they are eyed from head to foot by the matron.

"Rub that rouge off," comes in tones of compelling finality. "Go home and take that georgette off. What you think this is—a pink tea?" Really it's embarassing.

The authorities explain they simply want the girls to appear in sensible, business like attire during office hours.

There is one green spot, however, in this drab, colorless existence and that's Saturday afternoons. Restrictions are removed on that day and the girls are permitted to doll up to perfection because of the half holiday, and when they go out they want ot look nice.

Richmond Reports Seven For Trinkle

Richmond, Va., Aug. 4.—While more complete returns from the democratic primary Tuesday, compiled by the Times-Dispatch, indicate Harry St. George Tucker, defeated candidate for the nomination for governor of Virginia, has captured the Second district by a small majority, territory given his successful opponent, State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, on teh night of the primary, late figures in no wise minimize the victory of the Wytheville man.

Seven of the ten congressional districts at least will be found to have been carried by Senator Trinkle when the ballots are finally counted, and he will, on the face of returns now in hand and incomplete, but showing clearly the trend of the voting, come out a winner by something like 20,000 majority.

State Senator Junius E. West, of Nansemond, on the face of incomplete returns, compiled by the Times-Dispatch, is in the lead in the four cornered race for the nomination for lieutenant governor, with State Seator Julien Gunn and Delegate Kenneth N. Gilpin, running a close race for second place.

Wife Attacked By Husband, Dead.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—Battered almsot beyond recognition with a hatchet and a flatiron by her husband early this morning, Mrs. Regina Rison died at Emergency Hospital at noon.

James Thomas Rison, her husband, a foreman on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, is being held at the sixth precinct. Mrs. Rison's skull had been split in several places and there was a hole two inches wide at the top.

The attack, which resulted in the death hof the frail Mrs. Rison, took place in the second floor front room at 317 Pennsylvania Avenue, Northwest, where she lived with her husband.

Policeman R. H. Johnson arrested Rison shortly after Mrs. Annie A. Rothrey, of 315 Pennsylvania Avenue northwest, reported that a woman was screaming in the house next door to her. Rison pointed a gun at Johnson when the officer froced the door of his room. In the struggle that took place, while Mrs. Rison lay moaning on the bed in agony, the gun was wrested from Rison.

Johnson immediately summoned an ambulance, which took Mrs. Rison to the hospital. He asked Rison why he had attacked his wife and what he had struck her with.

Rison's reply was: "I hit her with the same thing she hit me with." According to Johnson, this was the only statement Rison would make. When taken to the Sixth precinct he would not say a word about the fight.

When asked if he had anything to say the man's words were to the effect that he would commit suicide if he had a chance, according to Policeman Johnson.

GETS 20,000 MAJORITY

Trinkle Carries Seven Out of Ten Districts In State.

WEST NOMINATED

Suffolk Man Leads for Lieutenant-Governor By Nearly 15,000—Sweeping Trinkle Victory.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 4.—While more complete returns from the Democratic primary Tuesday indicate that Harry St. George Tucker, defeated candidate for the nomination for Governor of Virginia, has captured the Second District by a small majority, territory given his successful opponent, State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, on the night of the primary, late figures in no wise minimize the sweeping victory of the Wytheville man.

Seven of the ten congressional districts, at least, will be found to have been carried by Senator Trinkle when the ballots are finally counted, and he will, on the face of returns now in hand, incomplete, but showing clearly the trend of the voting, come out a winner by something like 20,000 majority.

Richmond, considered a Tucker stronghold, has apparently gone by a majority of less than 200 for Senator Trinkle. The result, however, cannot be announced definitely until after the board of election commissioners has officially canvassed the vote today Voting in the capital city was one of the greatest surprises of the primary, since it was generally conceded by those in a position to judge, that Mr. Tucker would receive here an overwhelming majority. The reversal is attributed to women voters, whose attitude toward the guernatorial candidates could not be guaged by old political observers.

There appears at this time to be no doubt that State Senator Junius E. West, of Nansemond, has won a sweeping victory in his candidacy for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. While the figures are still very incomplete, West's lead, on the face of available returns, is too strong to be overcome. State Senator Julien Gunn and Delegate Kenneth N Gilpin are running neck and neck for the honor of second place. Gilpin is now in the lead, but has apparently lost his own district, the Seventh, to Gunn, who received in the Third District, more than twice as many votes as his two competitors combined.

A telegram last night from Suffolk brought the information that Senator Gunn had conceded the nomination of Senator West in a congratulatory message to the Nansemond man.

West expressed his gratitude to his friends in the Second district for their splendid support and to the voters all over the state for the way they rallied to his banner.

"I am tired out," the next Lieutenant Governor said and "must get some sleep, but tell them all I certainly appreciate their evidence of faith and will do my best to merit.

Senator West did not say where he is going, but it is known that he intends to tack a good rest after the strenuous campaign he has made for the nomination.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our special correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 4.—According to officials of the U. S. Bureau of Education, the nationwide shortage in the supply of school teachers so serious a year ago that it forced the closing of many schools throughout the country, has ceased to be a problem. Information received today by the Gazette correspondent from the Bureau officials shows that trained teachers of both sexes are flocking to get their old jobs in public, elementary and high schools in practically every section of the United States. Nearly 600,000 instructors are preparing to take charge when the fall term begins next month.

Falling salaries in commercial pursuits and a big increase in the pay of teachers, coupled with the lack of employment are responsible for the rush of teachers back to the schools.

According to a survey made by the Bureau of Education the average salary of elementary teachers now is generally above $1,000 a year. The average salary of high school teachers, the survey shows, is $1,677 a year. This represents an increase of fifty-two and six-tenths per cent. since 1918 for high school teachers. Salaries of elementary school teachers are believed to have increased in like proportion. In 1918, the lowest range of salaries paid in the elementary schools was slightly above $600 a year.

The State of Virginia cannot feel proud of the showing it makes in so far as its salaries to teachers in high schools is concerned. According to statistics gathered by the Bureau of Education, in the Old Dominion high school teachers receive only slightly more than $1,000 a year. Virginia is the state where lowest salaries are paid in high school work, according to the Bureau of Education. In California, high school teachers receive more than $2,000 a year.

There are approximately 70,000 teachers giving their entire time to work in high schools throughout the country. This class of school suffered least from the shortage of instructors when the war began to draw thousands from the school rostrums. Salaries always have been higher in the high school service than in the elementary schools.

In the elementary schools, when the shortage of teachers was at its worst more than 20,000 teachers were needed. Schools were forced to close in some districts because there were no teachers. In several sections of the country, students received an average of but ninety days instructions in the school year of nine months.

Officials of the Bureau of Education are calling attention to the fact that in a few states the increases in salaries have not yet been made sufficient to encourage young men and women to undertake teaching as a life work. In such states the campaign for increases is still going.

The Federal Bureau is now turning its attention to a study of conditions governing the training of teachers. Although the shortage of teachers is probably at an end, the problem left over from the war is not completely solved. The training and fitness of the present army of teachers now is not of the same standard as in pre-war days. Not so many college graduates are going into teaching. Before the war the percentage of teachers who had received college preparation for their work was nearly eighty per cent. At present, only slightly more than 60 per cent. of teachers are college trained.

The State Department has sent out informal inquiries to the various nations included in the President's disarmament conference proposal asking whether November 11 is an acceptable date. Information obtained through the Japanese Embassy here makes it appear unlikely that that government will consent to a date as early as November 11, Armistice Day.

As explained in official circles, the Japanese objection to the date is not based on a desire to postpone the conference, but rather on the natural objection that the date will not give the Japs sufficient time in which to prepare fully for the conference. Pointing out that in order to be here and get established in quarters by November 11, it would be necessary for the Jap delegation to leave by the first of October, persons in touch with the Japanese government say this would give less than two months for Japan to assemble the data a staff of experts necessary for the conference. Japan has not yet entered a formal objection to the November 11 date but probably will do so within a few days through the medium of an informal statement that a date a month later would be much more acceptable to that government.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair has no intention of making war on "home brewing." Despite the fact that the Commissioner feels that the manufacture of the home product which contains more than one-half of one per cent. alcohol might be dealth with under the provisions of the Volstead Act, he has issued no instructions to his agents throughout the country to put a stop to this practice, now liberally indulged in by a good part of the American public.

TODAY'S THOUGHT Necessity is the argument of tyrants; it is the creed of slaves.
William Pitt.

LUCKY WASHINGTON!

We say "lucky Washington," but we really believe that it is not a case of luck but of hard and persistent work on the part of the various civic organizations of the capital, backed by the citizens. In any event, Washington has just effected a saving of nearly two millions of dollars annually by the reduction of its street-car fares, and its gas and electric power rates. It will have, beginning September 1st, 7 cent carfare, $1.10 gas, and 8-cent electric power.

These reductions were fought by all the public utility companies with bitter determination. But the people were mightier and prevailed. Whereas Alexandria is paying nearly forty per cent. higher carfare; recently granted, through its city council, an extension of its war-time electric rates for another fat and unctuous year; and still pays $1.80 for its gas—the poor man's coal.

Can it be that the civic organizations of Washington are more alert or more assiduous in looking after the interests of its citizens? Or is it attributable to the activities of an aroused people themselves? We have no answer to these riddles at present. But we do know that our citizens are being milked plenarily to the taste of the queen in the legend.

As to the higher fares on the electric line, the Washington - Virginia Railway Company admit, so we are informed, that their decrease in passenger traffic is enormous since the higher rates went into effect. We understand that the new rates do not begin to compensate the Company for its decline in revenue. This being true, the Gazette's prediction of a few weeks ago will be verified: that the Company would not be the gainer, and the people mulcted out of thousands of dollars to no practical or beneficial purpose.

The electric rates are fixed for another year—so we may pass them over, as the lawyers say, as res adjudicata.

As to the gas question, we will reserve that for future comment. We have made some inquiry among the consumers of the city, and find them reasonably satisfied as to the quality. We wish to be fair to the gas management, and gladly make the statement that from our information the gas seems to be better than for some years past.

But the price of the gas, however, will bear investigation in behalf of the citizens. We are now looking into the matter and will have, as stated, somewhat to say in the matter at another time.

"While home-brewing might be regarded as contrary to the prohibition law," said Commissioner Blair to the Gazette correspondent today, "it seems to me that the efforts of our organization should be spent in other directions than invading one home in search of harmless drinks despite the fact that they may contain more alcohol than the law permits. What we are striving for is the suppression of the 'bootlegger' and the prosecution of those who are reaping huge fortunes through the illicit sales of intoxicants. There are no agents working under my supervision who have been given authority or instruction to suppress the practice of "home brewing."

House of Commons Lifts Saloon Lid.

London, Aug. 4.—Loud cries of approval in the house of commons during the "wee sma' hours" this morning, greeted the tilting of the lid on Britain's pubs.

The house passed the remaining stages of the licensing bill under which many of the wartime restrictions on drinking are removed.

Despite recent opposition to late sessions, the members cheerfully sat until after 3 a. m. to rush through the liquor bill.

It gives London pubs nine hours a day on week days, and eight hours in the provinces, with five hours Sundays. Supper drinking in hotels and at dinners is permitted until 12:30 a. m.

The measure must receive the O K. of the House of Lords, but this is considered assured.

Real City Advertising

The second series of advertisements that form a part of this year's $50,000 municipal advertising campaign is appearing this week in 90 newspapers in 18 states. Each newspaper will run two insertions. One stresses the advantages of St. Louis' central location in terms of freight rates and the other sets forth the advantages that accrue to merchants who buy in the St. Louis market by reason of the excellent package car service maintained.

Wrecked.

English humanitarians are deploring the downfall of their hopes of seeing the bill to prohibit the training of performing animals for the purpose of public entertainment become law, this session. In the House of Commons, on June 4, it was lost, at the third reading, by 69 votes against 60, and Commander Kenworthy, R. N. M. P., decided to withdraw, rather than to amend it, at least for the time being. The cause of performing animals has evoked widespread sympathy among all classes, and the press has been recalling the fact that in July, next year, it will be one hundred years ago when, at a time that all cruelty to animals was permissible, Richard Martin succeeded in passing the first Act to "prevent the cruel and improper treatment of cattle.' That was in July, 1822, and between that year and this lie wonderful years of progress in civilization, but the rejection of the performing animals' bill looks as if we had not made an end of Dick Martin's unfinished job.

Some change has been, and the appetite for certain since they were forbidden by succeeding Acts of Parliament to protect animals. We are ashamed now, as a nation, when we think of ancient barbarians at the time when, in the reign of Henry VII, a mare was torn to pieces at Windsor Castle by famished dogs for amusement of royal guests. When Nicholas of Russia visited England in the nineteenth century, he was taken to see dogs worry a bull, but it is not to be imagined that we could have carried the Japanese Crown Prince to any such spectacle of torment and blood.

We have made laws that deny this pleasure to the man who loved to see the bull baited, and to watch worrying of the blinded bear, but we have still to make laws that shall deal with the fool whose poor wits are amused by the performing dog, and the trained elephant. You may not reason with him, for there must be something in these spectacles that is dear to the heart of this class. Something that we others shall never understand; we, who can see the beauty and the wonder of our brothers, the beasts. When I have dined, I play with my cat, and she plays with me. She had a hundred pussy tricks that banish sadness. Her enemy, the fool, has no eyes for her and her like; he will look at her only when pain and fear have driven her, trembling, to some unseemly and uncatlike antics. For that he will pay his money and laugh his foolish laugh.

We do not wear blue coats and brass buttons as did those old-fashioned gentlemen, who jeered at the folly of "Humanity Martin," but are we really any more advanced in the hundred years, in our hearts and our brains?

SIX TO SHARE CARUSO'S ESTATE WORTH $1,000,000

New York, Aug. 4.—Enrico Caruso's wealth amounte to about $1,000,000 his close friend, Constantino J. Sperco, disclosed yesterday.

Sperco said he drew up the Ptenor's will two years ago shortly prior to the birth of little Gloria Caruso.

The estate, according to Sperco, is to be divided equally among six persons, namely, the tenor's brother, Giovannia, his two sons, Enrico and Rudolfo, his widow, an dhis daughter, and Caruso's stepmother.

The London Times will not suffer permanently because of Premier Lloyd George's display of temper which has resulted in his order to deprive that newspaper of Government news at its source, to which it is entitled.

Premiers are with us today and gone tomorrow, but great newspapers go on forever and grow rather than shrivel under official displeasure.

Intimidation of a legitimate agency of public information, such as the London Times, by a public servant has usually brought a re-action in public opinion that has caused the offender toright-about-face.

The news boycott of the Times has had no effect upon that newspaper's news of Government activities and it is not likely that it will. Lloyd George explains this by saying that he has not cut the Times off from agency news, but from having its own men gather news at its source. Lord Northcliffe says it is because other editors and proprietors came to his relief.

The press of England generally has pronounced the action of the Premier childish. If that be true, then like other children he will have to learn that politicians cannot live without newspapeas, but newspapers can get along very well without politicians. We wonder if his temper would be improved if the Northcliffe newspapers now decided to cease mentioning his name?

THE TRUFFLE-HUNTING PIG.

How many of our readers know that pigs are trained to hunt truffles? How many know what a truffle is? The truffle is an edible fungus growth found in certain parts of Europe, growing a few inches underground, and is considered a delicacy for the table. Dogs are often trained to find them. They learn to detect the presence of the truffle under the surface of the soil by a faint odor given out by the truffle. The dog, when over the spot, stops and pats the ground with his paw. Then the man digs up the truffle. Strange to say, the pgi is a very clever truffle finder. It has been said that so keen is the scent of one well-trained that a sow has been known to run in a direct line one hundred and fifty feet snuffing toward a point where two or three inches underground lay a truffle. Should the pig root it up and attempt to eat it, he is punished. Generally, however, when properly trained, he merely stands over it and grunts till it is dug up by the truffle hunter. Who would have thought that a pig could have so fine a sense of smell as sometimes to outrival the dog?

"And He shall send Jesus Christ which (who) before was preached unto you, whom the heavens must retain until the time of restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:20, 21.

That our Lord intended His disciples to understand that for some purpose, in some manner, and at some time He would come again; we believe that all familiar with the Scriptures will admit.

If you hear him, you will know some of the signs which indicate that Christ is present and the Glorious day is at hand.

To know some of the purposes of our Lord's return is a source of great comfort to all who mourn the loss of some dear ones who passed into the Great Beyond without hope.

FAKE, SAYS CHIEF, OF "LOST" YOUTH

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 4.—"The biggest fake ever pulled off in this part of the country."

Such was Police Chief Ed Maloney's characterization of the disappearance of Malcomb Etheridge 18, for whom 500 armed men have been searching for forty-eight hours. The searchers were armed by the police.

Chief Maloney said the apparent kidnapping of Etheridge was a fake and a frame up, but would not say what led him to such a belief. He declared Etheridge was tage struck and was "playing for notoriety to get into the movies."

The search for the missing boy continues.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 4, 1813.

U. S. SENATE.

Saturday, July 31, 1918.

Extract from the Executive Record, comprehending the messages of the President of the United States in relation to the nomination of Albert Gallatin, John Q. Adams, and James A. Bayard, as ENVOYS EXTRAORDINARY AND MINISTERS PLENIPOTENTIARY TO NEGOTIATE A TREATY OF PEACE AND COMMERCE WITH THE UNITED KINGDOMS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND; and a treaty of commerce with Russia; with the proceedings of the Senate thereon.

THE ENEMY.

Baltimore, August 2, 1813.

From the best information we can obtain it appears that a part of the British fleet have progressed up the Bay as far as Poplar Island, about 18 or 20 miles below Annapolis. Their vessels are visible from the State House steeple. A letter from Captain James Forrest, at St. Inigoes, states that there are strong reasons for believing their object is to attack Annapolis.

THE CAT IN ENGLAND.

What do English magistrates think about the people who abandon their cats, or drop them by the wayside far from home? This clipping from the Animal World, London, will tell us what the Southwick magistrates at least thought:

"The male defendant said they did not want the cat. In reply to the Magistrates' Clerk, he said it was against his nature to take life, and he thought he would give the cat a sporting chance of getting another home.

"The Magistrates' Clerk: 'A very sporting chance. Why didn't you send it to the lethal chamber?'

"The female defendant said they thought of that when it was too late.

"The male defendant said he did not think there was any obligation on him to keep the cat.

The Magistrates' Clerk: 'If you keep a cat, you must look after it, or get rid of it in the proper way.'

"Defendants were each fined one pound, and ordered to pay 22 pounds, solicitor's fee."

Virginia Publishers Told Their Rates Are Below Other States

(Editor and Publisher.)

Resolutions endorsing the reviving of the R. E. Lee School of Journalism at hte Washington and Lee University were adopted at the opening session of the thirty-third annual convention of the Virginia Press Association. The resolution was presented by Walter E. Addison, editor of the Lynchburg News. The meeting will end tomorrow night at a banquet given by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce.

More than sixty publishers are present.

Featuring the opening session was the address of James Wright Brown, editor of Editor and Publisher, who by statistics showed that the advertising and subscription rates of Virginia newspapers as a unit are below those of neighboring states ,or any group of states. Carol Dixby, of Cecil, Barreto & Cecil, advertising agent of Richmond and New York, emphasized the need of weeklies and dailies and maintaining advertising rates, making the point that advertising rates were not inflated during the war period.

E. F. Keister, publisher of three weeklies in the valley section, stressed the need for editorials in weekly newspapers, stating that if editorials are god for dailies they are helpful to weeklies. Applications for membership publishers. The roll has increased from 2 to 92 since 1919.

The newspaper is a mirror in which are reflected the good and the evil deeds of men. The gatherer of news must go everywhere, see everything, and hear everything and then report what he hears and describe what he sees so accurately that the reader will have as clear a conception of these things as the reporter himself.

Why the New Perfection is so successful for cooking

THE present New Perfection Oil Cook Stove owes its success to its design and the care with which it is built. Early types of "oil stoves" cannot compare with it in convenience, economy and durability.

The New Perfection burner produces the hottest kind of a flame—white-tipped. This and the long blue chimney are responsible for the splendid results obtained by New Perfection users everywhere.

The chimney is made long for a distinct purpose. It assures the burning of every last drop of kerosene used. There is no fuel wasted in the form of soot on the bottom of utensils. Then, too, it drives the clean heat of the white-tipped flame forcibly against the pan or kettle. No flame is ever as hot as the area just a little above it.

There's no stooping over to the oven when you use a New Perfection. It is up where you can reach it easily. The New Perfection oven has a three-point locking device that keeps the door closed tightly and prevents the escape and waste of heat. You can look into it at all times through the glass door.

The large four-burner size with warming cabinet is most popular. There are also, however, five, three, two and one-burner sizes.

Use Aladdin Security Oil regularly to obtain the best possible results. Always pure and clean—it's all heat.

New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves are sold by most hardware, furniture and department stores

ODD FAVOR HYLAN 2 1-2 TO 1.

New York, Aug. 4.—In Wall street betting circles the unofficial designations of John F. Hylan and Henry H Curran as the mayoralty candidates have been accepted as assuring that these two men will be the actual contenders, and in consequence the financial community has already started to speculate on their relative chances.

A large amount of money to bet that Hylan will be reelected is being offered at odds of 2 1-2 to 1 on him. One brokerage house announced it had at least $25,000 to put on this basis, while another also has a considerable sum to place the same way.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidneys Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 known as Mainshroot is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day ,with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or Highly colored urine, bloating irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetis or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until to-morrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms, Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for—every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.

Vivid Cattle Stampede In "Sky Pilot."

A cattle stampede, so realistic that even the most blase of Broadway's motion picture fans were moved to applause, is a feature of "The Sky Pilot," a Catherine Curtis production, released as an Associated First National attraction, which will be shown Saturday at the Idle Hour theatre.

Since the beginning of motion pictures, directors have attempted to reach the superlative in making their audiences thrill with the emotions of fear and suspense; and many times have they succeeded. But never, it is declared, has the equal of King Vidor's striking stampede scenes been alloyed with celluloid. Four thousand head of cattle in a mad lunge toward the camera provide dramatic tension that stands in a place by itself in motion picture production.

In order to film these scenes it was necessary to "plant" the cameras in an eight-foot-deep pit. Nine different cameras and cameramen were called upon for the filming.

Featured in "The Sky Pilot" are Colleen Moore, John Bowers, David Butler and Harry Todd. The story was taken from Ralph Connor's book of the same title.

TEUTONS SAY JANE ADDAMS IS KINDEST WOMAN IN U. S.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Jane Addams is called the "kindest woman in the United States,"' and is given the official thanks of the German Republic in two popular addresses, one signed by the German Red Cross and the other by President Ebert, which were sent to Salzburg, where Miss Addams is teaching in the school of the Woman's International

INGOMAR—"SHORT SKIRTS."

Gladys Walton will be at the Ingomar Theatre in "Short Skirts," her latest universal photodrama, filmed from the widely read story, "Cabella Drives the Nail," which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post from the pen of Alice L. Tildesley.

RICHMOND—EUGENE O'BRIEN

Concentrated action vivid character portrayal, and a steady ever mounting succession of startling situations distinguish the latest Selznick pictures production, which will be seen tonight at the Richmond Theatre for a days run. The star is Eugene O'Brien, and the supporting cast include Olive Tell, and Florence Billings.

The photoplay is excellent, many particularly picturesque locations having been incorporated in the scenes, which were taken under the direction of Alan Crosland.

TRINKLE 20,000 MAJORITY

Berkley D. Adams rolled up an impressive majority against Elben C. Folkes in his candidacy for reelection to the State Corporation Commission. Mr. Folkes, however, who was formerly a member of the State Senate from Richmond and of the old Administrative Board here received a tremendous vote in his home city and district. He will be defeated by Mr. Adams, judging by returns now in hand, by a two to one vote.

John Randolph Tucker, son of the defeated candidate for Governor, yesterday sent the following telegram to Senator Trinkle.

"Congratulate you on your victory and assure you of loyal support against the common enemy."

Earlier he talked to his father in Lexington by long distance telephone, apprising him of the result in the State. The candidate had no comment to make, other than to say he was disappointed at the result.

TAKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

Mrs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often despondent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around at my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. My back is much better and I can sleep well. I keep house and have the care of five children so my work is very trying and I am very thankful I have found the Compound such a help. I recommend it to my friends and if you wish to use this letter I am very glad to help any woman suffering as I was until I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 5 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

THEATRE

If you could see leaping from script to screen the actual characters of a wonderful story of the love of two men and a girl away in Canada's grandest crags, and whirl with them through action-drama more real and vivid than words could ever make it, wouldn't you greet that picture as a splendid exception? Then you'll agree "The Sky Pilot" is one.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Washington-Virginia Railway Company desires to submit the following facts regarding its operations, to show the citizens of the various communities which it serves that it should be considered as a LOCAL enterprise and an ASSET, and should receive the CONSIDERATION and PATRONAGE due any LOCAL concern which is helping to SUPPORT and DEVELOP the various districts in which it does business.

The following figures are taken from the Company's books for the year ending December 31, 1920, and are indicative of other years.

There has been paid for—

TAXES:

State of Virginia	$12,831.09
Arlington County	13,620.50
Fairfax County	3,894.45
Alexandria City	4,075.71
Town of Potomac	257.77
Town of Vienna	215.82
Town of Falls Church	270.53
Town of Fairfax	80.11
Total	$35,245.96

MERCHANDISE, ETC.:

Alexandria City	$12,559.08
Fairfax County	11,433.52
Arlington County	1,113.89
Total	$25,106.49

WAGES:

Alexandria City	$158,887.80
Fairfax County	97,937.31
Arlington County	145,826.30
Total	$402,651.41

A further analysis shows that, exclusive of taxes, this Company has paid in:

The City of Alexandria and Contributory Territory	$182,889.22
Clarendon, Lacey and Ballston	139,743.27
Falls Church	36,007.92
Vienna and Oakton	44,691.01
Fairfax, Town	24,426.48
Total	$427,757.90

In addition to this, the Company is obliged to maintain certain portions of pavements in the various communities which amounts to SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS annually. It also contributes to the various local public and private charities, both with money and free transportation.

A tax of one-half cent per passenger is paid to the Federal Government for all persons carried by it across the Highway Bridge at Washington, which amounted in 1920 to $24,913.45. In addition it paid for maintenance of pavement on this bridge, $3,915.15. All of these bridge taxes are paid by the Company for the privilege of operating its cars over this bridge, SO THAT IT CAN DELIVER ITS PASSENGERS TO THE CENTER OF WASHINGTON.

In order to continue to give the good service which it is now rendering, and expend the amounts given above, in the various districts, this Company MUST receive the CO-OPERATION and PATRONAGE of the communities.

If this patronage is withdrawn and directed to other means of transportation, which DOES NOT and CANNOT GIVE the service, and which DOES NOT contribute the large amounts in TAXES, PATRONAGE OF MERCHANTS, OR WAGES, it will be NECESSARY for this Company to WITHDRAW A LARGE PORTION OF ITS SERVICE, which would mean REDUCTION in the number of employees, and wages, also patronage to merchants. This will react upon all the communities in a MARKED degree.

The Washington-Virginia Railway Company asks YOU to SERIOUSLY CONSIDER these factors before CONDEMNING it, and to REALIZE, NOTWITHSTANDING STATEMENTS OF CERTAIN PEOPLE, that it is a very VALUABLE ASSET to the various towns AND SHOULD BE SO CONSIDERED AND TREATED BY THEIR CITIZENS.
